

XENOFEMINISM

We want neither clean hands nor beautiful souls, neither virtue nor terror. We want superior forms of corruption.

XF seizes alienation as an impetus to generate new worlds. We are all alienated – but have we ever been otherwise? It is through, and not despite, our alienated condition that we can free ourselves from the muck of immediacy. Freedom is not a given–and it's certainly not given by anything 'natural'. The construction of freedom involves not less but _more_ alienation; alienation is the labour of freedom's construction. Nothing should be accepted as fixed, permanent, or 'given'–neither material conditions nor social forms. XF mutates, navigates and probes every horizon. Anyone who's been deemed 'unnatural' in the face of reigning biological norms, anyone who's experienced injustices wrought in the name of natural order, will realize that the glorification of 'nature' has nothing to offer us–the queer and trans among us, the differently-abled, as well as those who have suffered discrimination due to pregnancy or duties connected to child-rearing. XF is vehemently anti-naturalist. Essentialist naturalism reeks of theology–the sooner it is exorcised, the better.

Responding to

1. Overcoming alienation
2. Going back to nature

1. Alienation

> We are all alienated – but have we ever been otherwise? (XF)

Marxism

- False consciousness
- Overcome illusion
- Become unalienated
- Pierce the veil
- Scales fall from your eyes

Zizek's glasses

> I am already eating from the trash can all the time. The name of this trash can is ideology.

- Model 1: Glasses distort vision; to see reality you have to take them off

- Model 2: Ideology is our natural state and you have to put the glasses on to see the real image

It is the same thing

- Model 1: Glasses distort vision; to see reality you have to take them off

- Model 2: Ideology is our natural state and you have to put the glasses on to see the real image true reality -> distortion -> special method -> true reality

“not everybody can reach truth, but i can”

EXECUTIVE ORDER

- Ideology
- Model 1: Marx
 - Overcome false consciousness
 - Take off the glasses
- Model 2: Zizek
 - Reveal hidden truths
 - Put the glasses on
- Model 3: XF
 - > We are all alienated – but have we ever been otherwise?
 - I am already eating from the trash can all the time

2. Nature

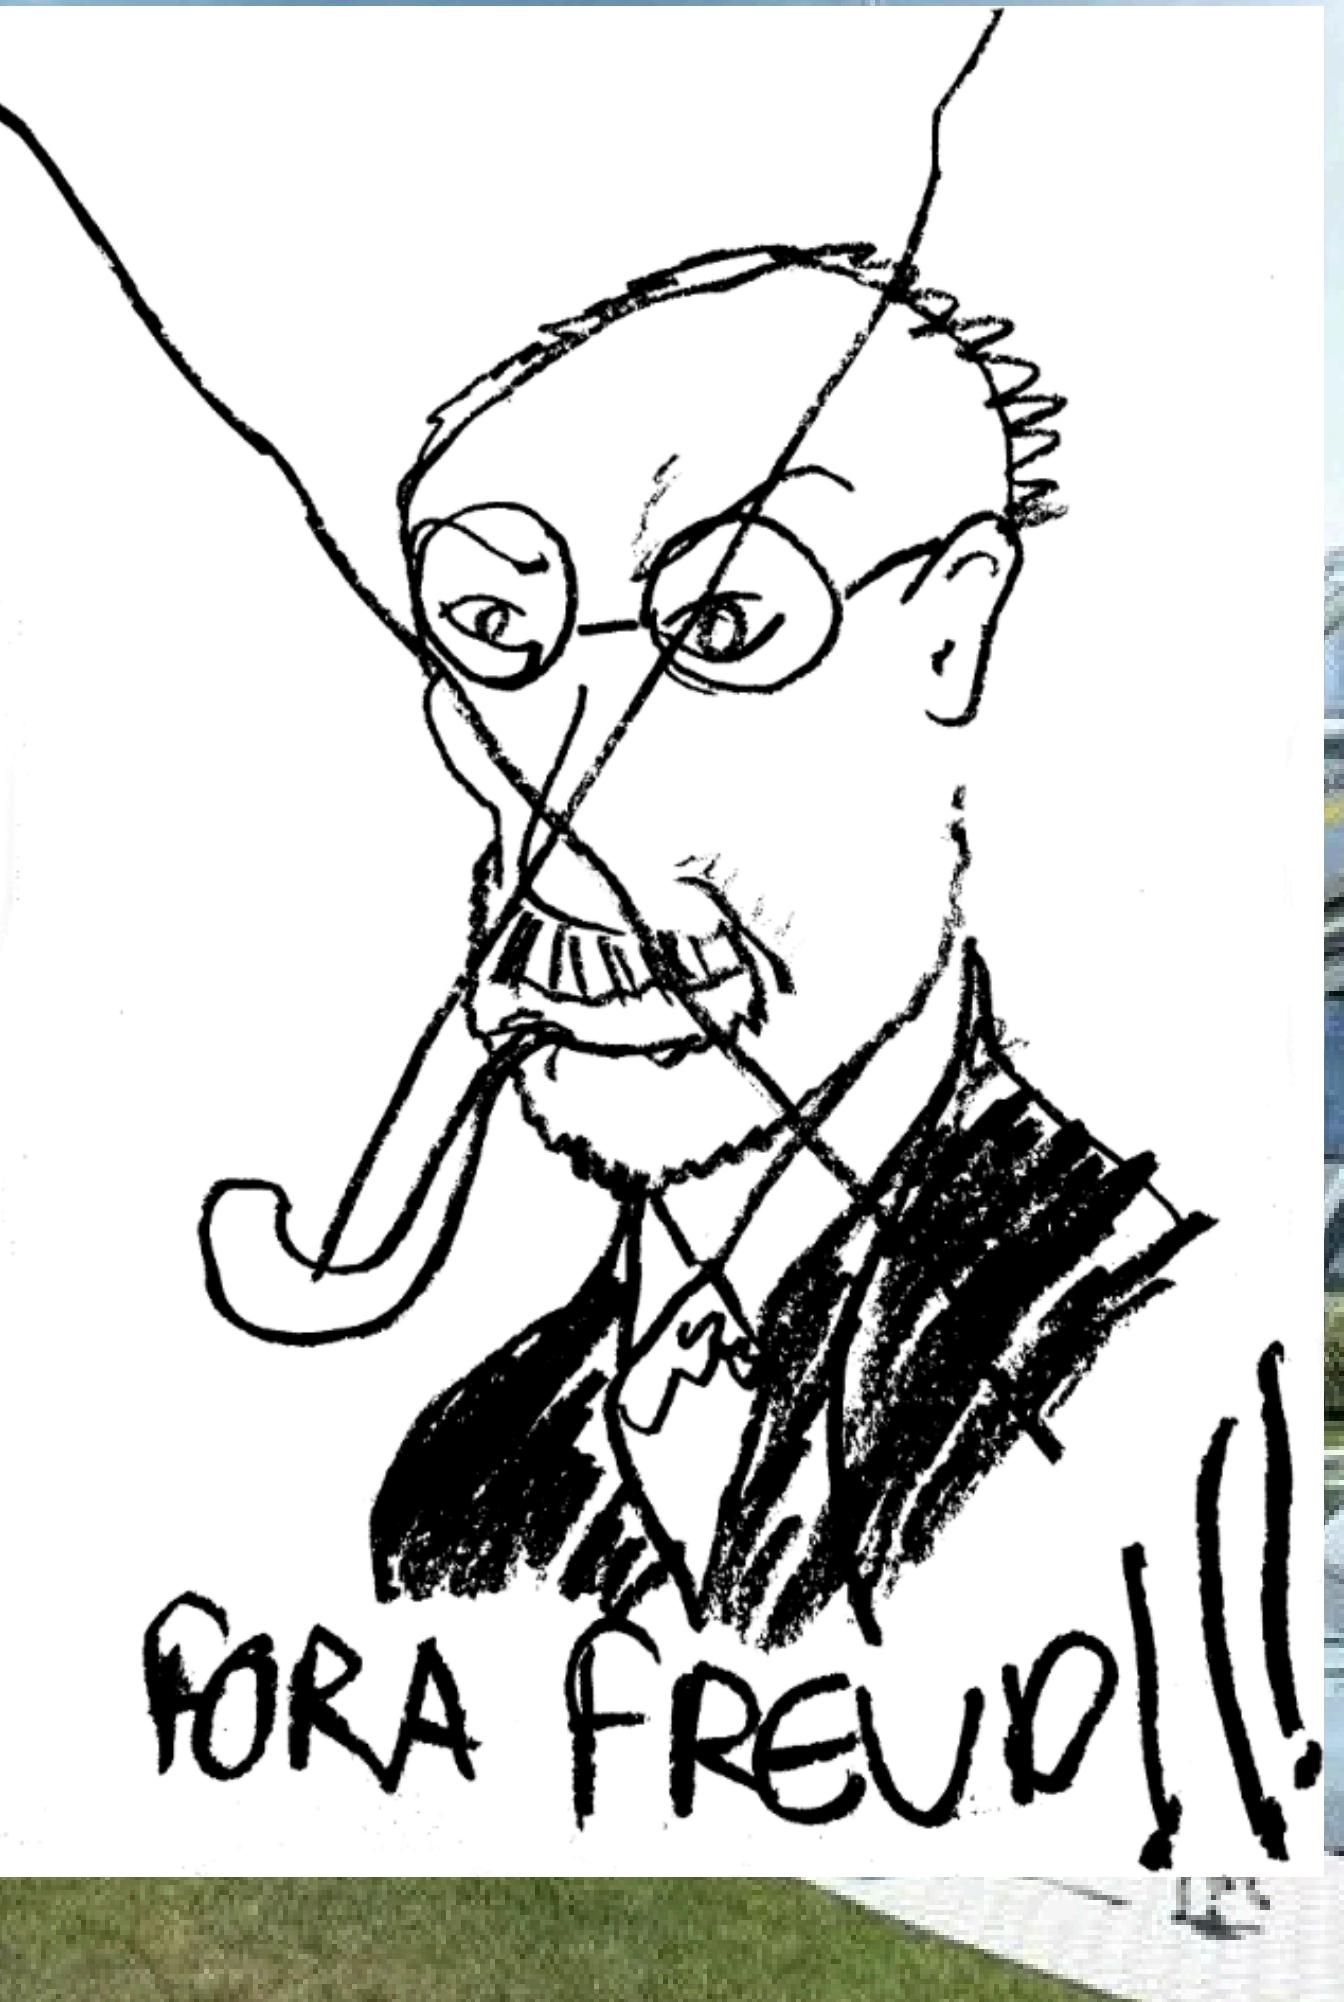

> Why is there so little explicit, organized effort to repurpose technologies for progressive gender political ends? (XF)

Model 1:
Taming nature

> There is no appeal to a court above that of reason.

> *For the principal task of civilization, its actual raison d'etre,
is to defend us against nature.*

Who is the positivist ideologue that said this?

Model 2: returning to nature

- > Singing, dancing, and experiencing the magic ... And seeing as nature is being attacked in so indefensible a manner, at least let's keep our subjectivities alive, our visions, our poetics of existence (Krenak)
- > Hypercapitalism... Strips away the dignity of the human being... The world has lost its soul and its speech. (Han)

> ... Not the mechanical cosmos of conventional modern cosmology, but rather 'a deep souled, subtly mysterious cosmos of great spiritual beauty and creative intelligence'.

(Reason)

and women are more natural than men, so...

Model 3

*> It's not just that
'god' is dead; so is the 'goddess'.*

- > The cyborg would not recognize the Garden of Eden; it is not made of mud and cannot dream of returning to dust.
 - > The cyborg skips the step of original unity, of identification with nature in the Western sense.
 - > The cyborg is a creature in a post-gender world; it has no truck with bisexuality, pre-oedipal symbiosis, unalienated labour, or other seductions to organic wholeness ...

- Nature
 - Model 1:
 - Rationalism: taming nature
 - Model 2:
 - Romanticism: return to nature
 - Model 3:
 - XF: transform nature

Our lot is cast with technoscience, where nothing is so sacred that it cannot be reengineered and transformed so as to widen our aperture of freedom, extending to gender and the human. To say that nothing is sacred, that nothing is transcendent or protected from the will to know, to tinker and to hack, is to say that nothing is supernatural. ‘Nature’—understood here, as the unbounded arena of science—is all there is. And so ... we find that our normative anti-naturalism has pushed us towards an unflinching ontological naturalism. There is nothing, we claim, that cannot be studied scientifically and manipulated technologically.

0x1A

In the name of feminism, ‘Nature’ shall no longer be a refuge of injustice, or a basis for any political justification whatsoever!

If nature is unjust, change nature!

> Xenofeminism is a rationalism. To claim that reason or rationality is 'by nature' a patriarchal enterprise is to concede defeat. ... There is no 'feminine' rationality, nor is there a 'masculine' one. ... XF ... Names reason as an engine of feminist emancipation, and declares the right of everyone to speak as no one in particular.

> We take politics that exclusively valorize the local in the guise of subverting currents of global abstraction, to be insufficient. ... Refusing to think beyond the microcommunity, ... XF is an affirmative creature on the offensive, fiercely insisting on the possibility of large-scale social change for all of our alien kin.

Repeated listenings

> If you recently started receiving you may wonder why the training tapes are so important. Over the last several decades your media has been slowly corrupted to be used against you. By feeding your mind a constant stream of damaging ideas, your view of reality has been warped to fit into a sinister agenda. How can one tape, listened to once, possibly have an impact on the face of a lifetime of accumulated deception? It can only have the smallest effect - but even that small effect can be built on. If you listen to that tape one hundred times, you may notice a difference in how you feel. If you listen to the tape a thousand times, you will be transformed. And if you listen to the tape a million times, you will become more than human: an Awake Receiver. Listen to as many tapes as you can. Listen to them as often as you can.
